Board of Directors Plan Alumni Fund, Enact Amendments

Preliminary plans for an Annual Alumni Fund, and the enactment of four constitutional amendments, comprised the chief business of the last two meetings of the Board of Directors, on Sept. 12 and on Oct. 9, during the Homecoming Weekend.

It was decided by the directors that the Annual Alumni Fund will be conducted this year in the spring, sometime after the Communion Breakfast. No effort is to be made to solicit funds until that annual affair is over.

The constitutional amendments passed by the directors are summarized as follows: (1) Deletion of all mentions of "member in good standing," as no yearly dues are required for membership; (2) All references to an "annual meeting" are deleted; (3) The moderators of the various chapters may attend directors' meetings in an advisory capacity only, with no voting privileges; and (4) Chapter presidents, all members of the board, are privileged to send a proxy to directors' meetings which they cannot attend, the proxy to have full voting powers.

The Board of Directors is now comprised of a president and two (Continued on Page Four)

'54 Homecoming Crowd Sees Pigskin Thriller

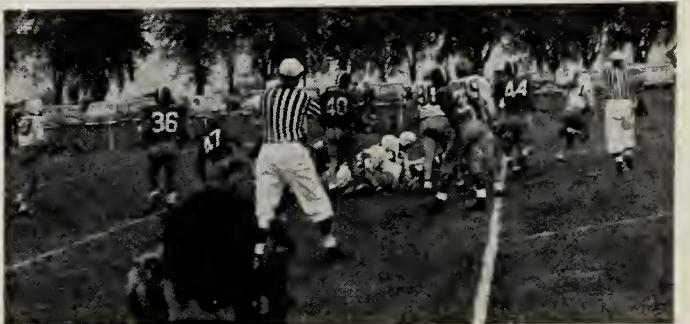

The largest Homecoming crowd in SJC history was on hand to cheer the Pumas on to a climatic, high-suspense victory over Indiana State, and to participate in the various other activities of the big weekend.

A few alumni were present when the festivities began on Friday night with a sophomore-sponsored pep rally and huge bonfire. The campus had been decorated in high style, each class being responsible for a particular area. Ed Arenz, sophomore from Elmhurst, Ill., was Homecoming chairman.

On Saturday morning, alumni, wives and friends began arriving in large numbers from all directions. Most of them stayed over for the evening festivities; many remained

Pre-Game Luncheon Scheduled for Nov. 6

A pre-Otterbein-game alumni luncheon, to be held in Columbus on Nov. 6, is being organized by Hugh McAvoy, field secretary.

The luncheon, patterned from the highly-successful one in Richmond, Ind., previous to the Earlham game, is expected to attract alumni and friends from a wide area of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. New Enrollment Smashes Mark

A record-breaking enrollment of 660 students was on hand Sept. 17 for the Solemn Pontifical High Mass which opened the 64th scholastic year of St. Joseph's College.

Bishop John G. Bennett, '09, celebrated the Mass and delivered the sermon.

This year's enrollment surpassed by 59 the previous high for the college, set in 1947. Included in this record number are students from 20 states of the Union, from New York to California, and from five foreign countries—Brazil, Canada, Puerto Rico, Korea and Austria.

Because of the swelling student body, the college administration is maintaining three upper classmen residences off-campus. Two houses in Rensselaer and a third approximately a mile and a half south of the campus have been (Continued on Page Three)

. Well, here I am in my sixth week of basic . . . To think we used to complain about the strict rules there (ot SJC). Why, those weren't even rules compared to what they have here. One thing is for sure—when I leave the Army I will have a little self control and wake up to the fact that things in life just aren't easy. You see a lot of things in the army comp you don't see in school—I mean ways of life of individuals in all classes of life. I consider myself really lucky now that I've seen some of the things here ot Choffee.

Sorry I won't be oble to make Homecoming, but I have to leave for Virginia the third of October . . . As for the football team, I sure do hope they are good this year and I will try to keep up with all the sports results this fall . . . Danny O'Connell and Bob O'Connor are here at Chaffee.

Six Artists Booked In Concert Series

The St. Joseph's concert series, which will bring to Collegeville and interested neighbors six outstanding musical events during the 1954-55 school year, opened Oct. 12 with a concert by Miss Herta Glaz, Metropolitan Opera mezzo-soprano.

The concerts, all of which the public is invited to attend, will include such outstanding musical artists as Stell Andersen, pianist of international reputation; the Juilliard String Quartet; and Louis Kaufman, one of the world's most celebrated violinists. The series has been arranged by Dick Kilmer, of the Social Science faculty.

Miss Glaz included in her program three arias from Bizet's "Carmen," along with selections from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess."

A member of the Vienna State Opera before coming to the United States in 1942, she has sung in this country with the Metropolitan, the San Francisco Opera, and the Aspen Festival.

Next in the series is the Stell Andersen concert, scheduled for Nov. 16.

Speakers Bureau Fills Variety of Engagements

Requests for speakers from the St. Joseph's College Speakers Bureau have been coming in from a wide variety of fraternal and professional groups this fall, according to Fr. John Lefko, director of the bureau.

Although the service offered by the 40-or-so listed faculty members is not limited by distance, a large proportion of the invitations to speak come from towns in northern and central Indiana, Illinois and Ohio.

Most of the topics listed are neither "religious" nor highly "academic;" they are planned for general public appreciation.

A bulletin may be obtained by writing to the Speakers Bureau, St. Joseph's College, Collegeville.

Enrollment

On campus, every available space is being utilized as living quarters. Students are living in the Science Hall dorms, the Administration Building basement, in the Power House and Publications Building, as well as in "The White House," which was pressed into use last year.

The two new residence halls now under construction on the western edge of the campus will permit a further enrollment increase next year.

But Back in 1899

. . . . the Pumas' predecessors looked like this. Bishop William R. Arnold, who was one of them, supplied this photo. He writes that the following men were also in the group: George Arnold, Edmund Wills, Dan Neuschwanger, Ed Werling, Ed Ley, Paul Welsh, Pete Wahl, David Schneider (and Brother Dave verifies the fact; he's the one on the farthest right, lower row seated); Henry Hoerstman, Charlie Van Flandern, Joe (Polly) Trentman, Titus Kramer and Albert McGill. How many can YOU name—and which ones are they?

St. Joseph's Saluted On NBC Program

The National Broadcasting Company saluted St. Joseph's College on its "Hear America Swinging" program Friday, Sept. 24, from 8 to 8:30 p. m.

SJC's student body heard the program in the college auditorium as a part of the pre-DePauw pep rally.

The half-hour "Stars in Jazz" portion of the 90-minute program, featuring the Lionel Hampton orchestra and song stylist Cris Connors, was dedicated to St. Joe's.

Foundation to Publish Newsletter

The St. Joseph's College Foundation has announced the publication of a newsletter to be sent out periodically with parochial school report cards, to help keep parents informed on Catholic educational aims and methods and improve family life and relationships.

The four-page newsletter, "Today's Parents," is to be issued six times a year. According to Fr. John Lefko, director of the foundation, orders have already been placed for about 14,000 copies in parishes from Nebraska to New York, with new orders coming in steadily.

The publication will deal with the broad range of subjects that affect parents, children and teachers in their daily lives. "Expect no high-flown, 'expert' theory," said Fr. Lefko. "Instead, the newsletter will use modern writing techniques aimed at brevity of treatment and ease of reading, thus making a solid bid for the attention of parents."

"It will be written both by and for fathers and mothers of school-age and pre-school children, with a new set of parent and teacher consultants for each issue."

The foundation head said that because "Today's Parents" is to be distributed in bulk to pastors ordering it, it can be sold for only five cents a copy. Although the

Oct. 11—Two fourth-quarter touchdowns gave St. Joseph's a 21-20 Homecoming victory over conference foe Indiana State, and boosted the Pumas' season record to three victories against one defeat.

Following their 35-7 opening victory over Earlham College in a non-conference game, the Pumas had previously humbled DePauw University 33-13 and lost to Valparaiso University 38-18 in Indiana Collegiate Conference games.

In Saturday's victory before the returning alumni, halfback Bob Hamman and end Merle Effing shared the spotlight for the Pumas. Hamman raced 64 yards for St. Joe's second touchdown midway in the final period then added the third on a 42-yard pass from quarterback Ralph Tite with four minutes remaining in the game. Effing had a perfect day, converting three extra points in three tries, and provided the winning margin for St. Joe.

The Sycamores from Terre Haute, Ind., scored first on a 41-yard run early in the second period. The hometown evened the score a few minutes later when Bill Bazil climaxed a sustained drive by scoring from the one-yard line. But a pass play covering 12 yards put State back in the lead again just before the half ended.

After a scoreless third period, Indiana State moved to a 20-7 advantage, turning an intercepted pass into a touchdown. The extra point attempt hit the crossbar

The visitors threatened again in the closing minutes, but halfback George Sherwood intercepted a Sycamore pass on the St. Joe goal line to halt the drive.

Five games remain on the St. Joseph's schedule, three of them with conference foes. The Pumas will meet Butler's Bulldogs on Oct. 16 at Indianapolis. Butler has dropped one of its two conference games. Evansville, currently in second place in the conference, will appear at Collegeville on Oct. 23. The final confer-

AN ALUMNI BASKETBALL PARTY AT SCHARFS', which threatens to become an annual event, will follow the Alumni Game again this season, according to Dick. The photo above was taken last year. Scheduled for the night of Nov. 20, at 7:30, the 1954 game will bring back many a Puma basketball fan and former years—some as spectators, others to get in there and avenge those two defeats at the hands of the kids, 80-56 in 1952, and 85-68 in 1953. Dick Scharf says alums are welcome to bring wives and/or girl-friends—and those who can play on Nov. 20 should send him their names as soon as possible.

. I was in Seoul for the greater part of the time (while in Korea), working as an administrative clerk-typist. I also spent quite a bit of time evenings teaching English to Koreans who were already proficient enough with the language to learn it from someone who couldn't speak Korean. It was very good experience and I met some fine people through it. I went to Japan a couple of times on R & R and was able to get a glimpse of the Japanese people. I met (a former St. Joe man), Frank Kriese ('52) while going to clerk-typist school at Ft. Riley, Kansas. I met him again at Denver after being released from active duty at Camp Carson, Colo.

I'm naturally glad to be back and can better appreciate some of the conveniences found only in U.S.A. . . . Thanks in advance for your having the Registrar send me the necessary information (for registration, fall semester).
